I am a local resident and president of Yorktown100, which is a 100% volunteer organization working to help mitigate the harmful effects of fossil fuels on our climate and environment. We oppose Enbridge's Project Maples, which is a move completely in the wrong direction. We need to recognize we are on the verge of a climate crisis. We need to support the supply of non-polluting renewable energy, not expanding the use of any fossil fuel. And methane, as we know, is a particularly potent greenhouse gas (80x worse than carbon dioxide in the near term), well known to leak into the atmosphere.

Croton leadership has a chance to guide our energy future in the right direction and move forward with clean energy. Please join me in opposing this project, which is a big step backwards.

Yours truly, Robert L DeAngelis (president of Yorktown100)

Please include any questions or comments: I am an environmental health scientist who has studied the effects of climate change on public health and community resilience. Just like the best available science guides the development of the food and medicine that we give our children, the world's experts are telling us that it would be shortsighted and dangerous to expand natural gas pipelines at this point in time when we are near tipping points that will irreversibly put our children at much higher risk of economic, housing, food, and health insecurity. What are our priorities?
